

Hotel & Travel Recommendations

PICC and Midline Insertion: Basic to Advance Class

Location: CPR123, Inc., 104-70 Queens Boulevard, Suite 400,
Forest Hills, NY 11375

For specifics related to the class content, times, etc., contact customer support: (888) 459-4913 extension 1001 weekdays, or press 1 for our operator to connect the call after hours and weekends. Or visit our website: http://piccresource.com/contact\_us.php

Recommendations from class site: There are many hotels in the NYC area. There are some that near the Queens office. Go to www.hotels.com to find hotels near class address: 104-70 Queens Boulevard, Queens, NY 11375, USA.

If you are flying into LaGuardia, there are Marriott hotels within a reasonable price range close to the airport. Visit: www.marriott.com for details.

If you'd like to stay overnight a few nights to visit Manhattan then, note that hotels within the city care often expensive, with the cheapest rooms over $200+ per night. There are may be a few under or slightly over $100 but use caution as some are barely motels and are meant for a "few hours stay".

Other Tips: Traveling from the city to Queens on Sunday via subway can be a nightmare at this time. There aren't as many trains on the weekend and NYC subway is under major construction with the majority of the construction is done on the weekends.

Driving in?: Keep in mind that it may difficult to find parking if you decide to stay in the city. Finding parking will be easier staying in Queens vs. staying within the city.

Airports: Laguardia, website: <http://www.panynj.gov/airports/laguardia.html> and John F. Kennedy (JFK), website: <http://www.panynj.gov/airports/jfk.html>

Both airports provide information regarding transportation/rides from the airport on the port authority websites listed above.

Note from Alice Cennamo, President, PICC Resource Associates, LLC: My personal preference is to use Laguardia as I have always found it simpler to get in, around, and out of Laguardia airport vs. JFK.

MTA Website: For Train, bus, and subway information (see warning above regarding NYC weekend subway construction: <http://www.mta.info/>)

A few hotels are added on the following pages for information/convenience purposes only. The hotels listed have been found to be in the area. We have no connection with the hotels, and cannot confirm the quality.
